

Thomson Research – Embargoed

Performance Matters

- Gather unparalleled insight with embargoed research from exclusive Thomson Financial sources
- Make better decisions with forecast data, strategic insight, product information, and more
- Share strategic advice with clients through forecasting and valuation models

World-renowned content via Investext

Thomson Financial's embargoed research collection delivers expert analysis and forecast reports on companies, industries, products and markets across the globe. Embargoed research reports are mostly sell-side reports that are withheld from the public until the sources' clients have had first access to the valuable insight. These in-depth reports help you understand trends, generate ideas, and maximize performance.

More than 40 embargoed research sources are exclusive partners with Thomson Financial—including highly regarded contributors such as ABN AMRO, Credit Suisse, Bear Stearns, Grupo Santander and Wachovia. Additionally, Thomson Financial works with expert analysts from more than 1,000 of the world's top investment banks, brokerage houses and research firms to cover companies across all industries and countries. The Thomson Research embargoed report collection delivers the insight you need for the broad, expert perspective on companies and markets that your clients demand.

Unparalleled Coverage

The Thomson Research collection offers unparalleled, extensive coverage of global companies and markets. To accurately assess international businesses, you can access reports written by analysts in nearly every country with an understanding of local and regional markets. Across the embargoed research collections, Thomson Financial provides more than:

- 7.6 million total reports
- 5.7 million total company reports
- 4,000 new reports each business day

Exclusive Collections

- Investment Research: Known by the Investext brand, millions of reports since 1982 span company research, fixed-income research, fundamental research, non-English language reports and much more, from hundreds of contributors.
- Select Collection Premium Research: An elite group of reports from contributors like Dresdner, UBS, and Sanford C. Bernstein, many of which cannot be found anywhere else.
- Market Research: With well over half a million reports, this collection offers the most comprehensive online trove of highly regarded market and industry information and analysis available today.
- Trade Association Research: Known by the Industry Insider brand, a one-of-a-kind, referential compilation of critical data and research produced by more than 200 trade organizations.

Trusted Sources

Research comes from the major global firms as well as boutique, regional and local firms around the world such as Morgan Keegan, Fator Doria Atherino S/A, DBS Vickers, and Raiffeisen Centro Bank. Active contributors include:
