United Nations Global Compact and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

We are proud signatories to the UN Global Compact and our commitment the Ten Principles as underpinned by our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. With products supporting the backbone of legal and tax systems worldwide, we work in strong support of SDG 16: Peace, Justice, and Strong Institutions. Our Diversity and Inclusion efforts support SDG 5. In addition, in 2021 our employee networks engaged in quarterly SDG focus campaigns supporting SDGs 1, 2, 4, and 13, and our commitment to SDGs 5, 12, and 13 continued to drive improvements in gender equality and our carbon footprint. Additional alignments between SDGs and our work can be seen in the metrics above and in our markets overview at thorsonreuters.com.

| Description of approach to identifying and addressing data security risk | SV-PS-230a.1 | We implement a wide range of security policies, standards, technology, and practices, which are integrated in our overall enterprise risk management framework. Under the leadership of our Chief Operations & Technology Officer, teams across the organization play a critical role in identifying, assessing, responding, monitoring, and reporting risks under the guidelines of the enterprise risk management framework. Our Information Security Risk Management (ISRM) team who is responsible for operating and enhancing our security capabilities, based on the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) Cybersecurity Framework (CSF) and Capability Maturity Model (CMMI), to help prevent, detect, and respond to cybersecurity threats. Our Chief Operations & Technology Officer is in charge of the management of cybersecurity risks as an important component of our overall enterprise risk management framework. Our Board of Directors is responsible for confirming that a system is in place to identify the principal risks facing Thomson Reuters and that appropriate procedures and systems are in place to monitor, mitigate, and manage those risks. The Board of Directors, through its committees, periodically receives reports from or meets with members of management to discuss material enterprise risks, including cybersecurity risks. | | | |
| Description of policies and practices relating to collection, usage, and retention of customer information | SV-PS-230a.2 | Thomson Reuters respects the privacy rights of our customers and their users and is committed to protecting their customer personal information. In the ordinary course of business, we may collect, store, use, and transmit certain types of personal information from our customers, who are subject to an increasing number of different data protection laws and regulations, which vary by jurisdiction (and may include, without limitation, the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and various U.S. state and federal laws and regulations). These data protection laws and regulations are continuously evolving. We have implemented our Thomson Reuters Privacy Statement, which generally explains how we collect, handle, store, and protect personal information in the context of our services. However, where we process customer personal information on behalf of our customers as a processor to them, our policy is to enter into agreements with these customers which may further restrict how we may collect, handle, store, and protect that customer personal information in accordance with our agreement. | | | |
| (1) Number of data breaches, SV-PS-230a. (2) Percentage involving customers' confidential business information (CBI) | | Similar to other large global information companies, Thomson Reuters experiences cyber-threats and cyber-attacks. We have dedicated resources at our company who are responsible for maintaining appropriate levels of cybersecurity and protecting our customers' data and our internal data. Thomson Reuters is also dependent on security measures that some of its third-party suppliers and customers are taking to protect their own systems, infrastructures and cloud-based applications and services. | | | |
| or personally identifiable information (PII) (3) Number of customers affected | | We seek to mitigate these risks through our ability to escalate and respond to known and potential risks through our Enterprise Security Incident Management processes. We also maintain what we believe is sufficient insurance coverage that may (subject to certain policy terms and conditions including self-insured deductibles) cover certain aspects of thirdparty security and cyber-risks and business interruption. | | | |
| | | Our incident response program is designed to ensure that all security incidents or data breaches that are required to be reported to regulatory bodies, in our public filings, and/or members of the public and media are so properly reported. The existence (or non-existence) of non-reportable security incidents or data breaches is considered company confidential and is not shared with third parties, except as required by contract or applicable law. | | | |

| (2) All other employees | | Thomson Reuters has embraced as its purpose informing the way forward on truth, justice, and transparency — for our customers and the broader world. Diversity and inclusion are foundational to this ambition, and our commitment to continually improving the inclusiveness and equity of our employee experience and achieving our representation goals for diversity in senior leadership is unwavering. |
| | | Our global diversity and inclusion strategy focuses on four key areas: |
| | | Attract, retain, and develop diverse talent across all levels of our organization. Foster an inclusive work culture with a focus on belonging, equity, and allyship. Lead through inclusive product design and customer experiences. Partner with our customers to drive this work in the markets in which we operate. |
| | | In 2020, Thomson Reuters established goals for diversifying our senior leadership (director and above), and have consistently driven improvement. Since then, we have increased our share of women in senior leadership (which we assess globally in aggregate) from 39% to 42% at the end of 2023. Additionally, we have increased racial and ethnic diversity in senior leadership roles (which we assess across the UK, US, Canada, Puerto Rico, South Africa, and Brazil in aggregate) from 14% to 18% by the end of 2023 — with positive incremental growth of Black talent in senior leadership increasing from 32 to 41 in 2023. |
| | | While we recognize that there is still work to do, we are resolved in our commitment to increasing these numbers and have recommitted to our representation goals of: |
| | | 45% or more women in senior leadership roles by the end of 2024. 20% or more ethnic and/or racial diversity in senior leadership roles by the end of 2024. Doubling of Black talent to 60 in senior leadership roles by the end of 2024. |
| | | To reinforce our commitment, we are focused on leadership and culture, internal skill development, talent mobility, accountability, and inclusive hiring practices to retain and grow our diverse workforce and increase momentum in addressing the needs of our customers. |
| (1) Voluntary | SV-PS-330a.2 | Not currently disclosed |

| Employee engagement as a percentage | SV-PS-330a.3 | At Thomson Reuters, we all have a shared responsibility to do business in ways that respect, protect, and benefit our customers, employees, communities, suppliers, and environment. Our voluntary, employee-led engagement groups help us achieve these goals. Business Resource Groups benefit both our employees and the company's business goals. |
| | | Global Volunteer Networks help drive volunteering efforts across our locations, by arranging volunteering activities, supporting local projects, and developing long-lasting relationships with community partners. Green Teams arrange knowledge sharing events on sustainable topics and look for ways we can change our consumption of resources. |
| | | While we do not measure employee engagement in percentage terms, we measure and disclose other engagement and inclusion metrics. In 2023, our employees volunteered over 60,000 hours of service and committed nearly $1.2m in matching gift and volunteer grant donations. Employees also received over 522,000 total hours of training, averaging 19.8 training hours per employee. |
