United Nations Global Compact and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

We are proud signatories to the UN Global Compact and our commitment the Ten Principles as underpinned by our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. With products supporting the backbone of legal and tax systems worldwide, we work in strong support of SDG 16: Peace, Justice, and Strong Institutions. Our Diversity and Inclusion efforts support SDG 5. In addition, in 2020 our employee networks engaged in quarterly SDG focus campaigns supporting SDGs 1, 2, 4, and 13, and our commitment to SDGs 5, 12, and 13 continued to drive improvements in gender equality and our carbon footprint. Additional alignments between SDGs and our work can be seen in the metrics above and in our markets overview at thomsonreuters.com

| Description of approach to identifying and addressing data security risk   | SV-PS-230a.1 | We have a dedicated Information Security Risk Management (ISRM) team that is continually evaluating our security posture and mitigating risks as part of our information security program. The ISRM team is led by the Chief Information Security Officer (CISO). The ISRM team maintains a risk framework that sets forth the requirements and responsibilities for risk identification, registration, and treatment. With dedicated resources focused on improving information security practices throughout Thomson Reuters, we strive to identify risks to our information assets and guard against unauthorized access, loss or misuse. As part of managing such risks, we use a variety of controls, security devices, and monitoring tools to analyze our systems and network.   |
| Description of policies and practices relating to collection, usage, and retention of customer information   | SV-PS-230a.2 | Thomson Reuters respects the privacy rights of our users, their clients, and the public and is committed to protecting their information. In the ordinary course of business, we collect, store, use, and transmit certain types of information that are subject to an increasing number of different laws and regulations. In particular, data security, data protection, and privacy laws and regulations that we are subject to often vary by jurisdiction and include, without limitation, the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and various U.S. state and federal laws and regulations. These laws and regulations are continuously evolving. We have implemented policies and procedures that are designed to ensure compliance with applicable laws, rules, and regulations.   |
|  |              | The Thomson Reuters Privacy Notice explains how we collect, handle, store and protect personal information in the context of our services, including personal information that a user provides through the use of our products and services, which may include the user's name and address. The Privacy Notice states that we may use Personal information we collect to communicate with and provide our users with a requested service or product, to improve services, and for other legitimate interests. The Privacy Notice provides the user with information on how they can exercise their rights to indicate their preferences with regard to receiving special offers and promotions from us, request information about the personal information we have about them, and exercise other rights pertaining their data in accordance with applicable law. |
| (1) Number of data breaches (2) percentage involving customers' confidential business information (CBI) or personally identifiable information (PII) | SV-PS-230a.3 | Similar to other large global information companies, Thomson Reuters experiences cyberthreats and cyberattacks. We have dedicated resources at our company who are responsible for maintaining appropriate levels of cybersecurity and protecting our customers' data and our internal data. Thomson Reuters is also dependent on security measures that some of its third-party suppliers and customers are taking to protect their own systems, infrastructures, and cloud-based applications and services.   |
| (3) number of customers affected   |              | None of these threats and related incidents to date have resulted in a material adverse impact for our business. We seek to mitigate these risks through our ability to escalate and respond to known and potential risks through our Enterprise Security Incident Management processes. We also maintain what we believe is sufficient insurance coverage that may (subject to certain policy terms and conditions including self-insured deductibles) cover certain aspects of third-party security and cyberrisks and business interruption.   |

| (-,   |              | At Thomson Reuters, we are focused on fostering an Inclusive Culture of World-Class Talent. To bring this to life, we are continuing to intentionally embed diversity and inclusion across all that we do, including how we:  |
|   |              | Attract, retain, develop and flow diverse talent at all levels  |
|   |              | Foster an inclusive work culture for all employees  |
|   |              | Lead through inclusive product design and customer experiences  |
|   |              | • Partner with our customers to drive this work in the markets in which we operate  |
|   |              | In addition, we have announced three diverse talent representation goals to help address disparities in our leadership teams. These goals include:  |
|   |              | • 40% or more women representation in senior leadership by 2020 (expanding target date to 2022, goal percentage to 45%, and leadership scope in Q1 2021)  |
|   |              | • 20% or more racial and ethnic representation in senior leadership by 2022 (launched in Q3 2020)   |
|   |              | • Double Black talent representation in senior leadership by 2022 (launched in Q3 2020)   |
|   |              | At the close of 2020 across our senior leadership teams, we had 36% women representation, 14.5% racial and ethnic representation, and 32 Black talent. To drive continued progress, we are focusing on hard metrics and accountability to meet the current and forward-looking needs of our organization and customers. We also joined Refinitiv and Fortune for their 'Measure Up' initiative, encouraging corporate diversity disclosure and accountability. The key to achieving these goals is our focus on driving further inclusivity, growing a strong pipeline of diverse talent, providing equitable access to opportunity, and being intentional in removing bias in our workplace. |

| Employee engagement as a percentage                                 | SV-PS-330a.3 | At Thomson Reuters, we all have a shared responsibility to do business in ways that respect, protect, and benefit our customers, employees, communities, suppliers, and environment. Our voluntary, employee-led engagement groups help us achieve these goals. Business Resource Groups benefit both our employees and the company's business goals.   |
|   |              | Global Volunteer Networks help drive volunteering efforts across our locations, by arranging volunteering activities, supporting local projects, and developing long-lasting relationships with community partners. Green Teams arrange knowledge-sharing events on sustainable topics and look for ways we can change our consumption of resources.  |
|   |              | While we do not measure employee engagement in percentage terms, we measure and disclose other engagement and inclusion metrics. In 2020, our employees volunteered over 84,000 hours of service and committed more than $700,000 in matching gift donations. Employees also received over 480,000 total hours of training, averaging 19.6 training hours per employee.  |
