Tax Research

INTRODUCTION

A private copy levy is a form of indirect remuneration for right holders, based on the premise that some acts of private copying cannot be licensed for practical purposes by the relevant right holders. A copyright levy is typically attached to certain products that can serve to reproduce audio, audio-visual and textual material such as music, films or books.

In Ukraine, this levy is collected by Ukrainian Music Alliance (UMA), an organization responsible for the collection of private copying remunerations for all rights owners and for distributing it to its member companies and to those who gave it a collection mandate.

To help you automate the private copy levy determination, Thomson Reuters has added a new authority of Ukraine Private Copy Levy, which contains jurisdiction selection logic and fee amounts as established by UMA. By default, the Ukraine Private Copy Levy authority is turned off. This document explains the system updates and describes how to utilize the Ukraine Private Copy Levy authority for the UMA levy.
