

PCA-IR-5: Disclosure Requirements for Interim Financial Information of Issuers

Company: _____ Balance Sheet Date: _____

Prepared by: _____ Date: _____

Explanatory Comments

The following is a list of the primary disclosure requirements for interim financial information of domestic issuers required by generally accepted accounting principles and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

According to the financial statement instructions to Form 10-Q, Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X is applicable for filers other than smaller reporting companies. (Smaller reporting companies are subject to Article 8-03 of Regulation S-X.) Rule 10-01 prescribes the use of condensed financial information for interim periods. Rule 10-01(a)(5) notes that interim financial information should include disclosures that are sufficient to make the financial information not misleading. Furthermore, registrants can presume that readers have read or have access to the annual audited financial statements and the adequacy of additional disclosures (except for contingencies) that are needed can be determined in that context. Therefore, disclosures that would substantially duplicate disclosures in the most recent annual report can be omitted.

Accordingly, this checklist addresses general requirements of Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X and other incremental or differing disclosure requirements as they relate to unaudited condensed interim financial information (for issuers other than smaller reporting companies). It does not represent a complete list of disclosures relating to annual financial statements (or a complete set of interim financial statements) prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and SEC rules and regulations. See PCA-CX-13.1, "Disclosure Requirements for Financial Statements of Issuers," for a long-form checklist covering annual and interim disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles and SEC rules and regulations. In addition, this checklist contains interim disclosure requirements that are not necessary for small business filers. See Reg. S-X, Article 8-03 for interim requirements applicable to smaller reporting companies.

Most checklist questions also include the relevant citation of the FASB Accounting Standards Codification. The Codification is the single source of nongovernmental authoritative U.S. accounting and reporting standards (other than SEC guidance).

This checklist has considered Regulation S-X, Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) Topics, Financial Reporting Releases (FRR), recent SEC Speeches, SEC Division of Corporation Finance Financial Reporting Manual, and recent Accounting Standards Updates (ASU) to the FASB Codification. Much (though not all) authoritative SEC content is included for reference in the FASB Codification. While citations to both the Codification and the original SEC material have been provided in this checklist for codified SEC material, SEC material contained in the FASB Codification does not supersede SEC rules or regulations and is not the authoritative source for SEC content. An occasional reference is made to PCAOB interim standards (AU sections). Disclosure guidelines for certain financial statement items are in auditing pronouncements. Inclusion of those disclosures without regard to whether the financial statements are audited or unaudited is generally accepted practice. Some checklist questions do not cite a specific authoritative reference but indicate that the disclosure is "accepted practice." Most companies disclose that information even though a specific requirement in authoritative literature cannot be identified.

There may be certain instances where an entity reports summarized financial information on an interim basis. In such situations, FASB ASC 270-10-50-1 through 50-4 prescribes minimum disclosure requirements for such information.

Except as noted in the following paragraph, this checklist is current through March 31, 2024 (ASU 2024-02). This checklist is updated four times throughout the year. Checkpoint Engage users can access the updated checklists directly within Checkpoint Engage. The most recent edition is also available at www.thomsonreuters.com/en-us/help/ppc-and-quickfinder-updates/ppc-aa-updates.html.

In October 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-06, Disclosure Improvements: Codification Amendments in Response to the SEC’s Disclosure Update and Simplification Initiative, to incorporate several SEC disclosure requirements into a variety of Topics in the FASB Codification. When effective, ASU 2023-06 will not significantly affect the disclosure requirements for entities subject to SEC’s existing disclosure requirements, given those entities’ requirement to comply with Regulation S-X. The effective date of each amendment of the ASU will be the date of the SEC’s removal of the related disclosure from its regulations, to prevent duplication. (If the SEC has not removed the related requirement from Regulation S-X by June 30, 2027, the amendments of the ASU will be removed from the FASB Codification.) Early adoption is prohibited. This checklist will be updated to incorporate the FASB ASC references as the amendments become effective.

Instructions: A block has been provided for each major disclosure caption. If the major caption is not applicable to your client, simply place a (✓) in the block. It will then not be necessary to check N/A for each question under the major caption. Otherwise, respond to each question with a (✓) in the appropriate column: (1) Yes—disclosure made; (2) No—item present, but no disclosure made (any item checked “No” should be explained in the checklist or in a separate memorandum); or (3) N/A—either the item is not present or it is immaterial to the financial statements.

GENERAL PRESENTATION REQUIREMENTS—CONDENSED INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

S-X 10-01(a)(5) [FASB ASC 270-10-S99-1(a)(5)] indicates that issuers may presume that users of condensed interim financial statements have read or have access to the audited financial statements for the preceding fiscal year and that the adequacy of additional disclosure needed for a fair presentation may be determined in that context. Accordingly, footnote disclosures that would substantially duplicate disclosures contained in the most recent annual report to shareholders or the latest audited financial statements may be omitted. However, disclosure is required for certain subsequent events and significant changes (see Question No. 5). Further, material contingencies must be disclosed, even though a significant change since year end may not have occurred.
