

SYNERGY

for Legal Professionals

November 16–19, 2026 | Las Vegas, Nevada

About

Legal SYNERGY is an exclusive technology conference for Thomson Reuters customers who want to master AI and other emerging innovations transforming the legal profession. Designed to condense months of learning into 2.5 knowledge-packed days, SYNERGY will give attendees the insight - and the tools - to lead through change with confidence.

What to expect

- Dynamic sessions on agentic workflows and the emerging forces in law
- New CoCounsel applications, official certifications, and hands-on workshops
- Product best practices, workflow optimizations, and maximizing your tech-stack ROI
- Professional advancement opportunities including CLE offerings and the CoCounsel Certification for litigators or transactional attorneys
- Ecosystem collaboration between law firm practitioners, tech and innovation teams, corporate legal departments, and Thomson Reuters partners
- Cutting-edge research from the Thomson Reuters Institute on leading trends shaping the future of the law

SYNERGY

for Legal Professionals

November 16–19, 2026 | Las Vegas, Nevada

Manager approval request letter

Version 1

Dear [Manager's Name],

I'm seeking approval to attend the Legal SYNERGY Conference in Las Vegas, November 16–19, 2026, hosted by Thomson Reuters. Early bird registration is currently available at $2,295 (regular pricing will be $2,695), plus hotel accommodations and airfare.

SYNERGY is designed for legal leaders looking to anticipate market shifts and drive innovation. The sessions, panels, and roundtables will provide insights into where legal services are headed, the impact of AI, and how client expectations are evolving. Networking with peers and corporate counsel will help strengthen our external relationships and support organizational growth. The CLE sessions will help me with my professional development needs for the year, and I'll have the opportunity to pursue the CoCounsel Certification.

Hands-on workshops and peer success stories will share how other organizations are leveraging AI to improve workflows and client outcomes. I have no doubt I'll return with key takeaways and actionable recommendations for our leadership team to ensure our organization continues to lead in client service and innovation.

Thank you for considering this request.

Best regards,
[Your Name]

SYNERGY

for Legal Professionals

November 16–19, 2026 | Las Vegas, Nevada

Manager approval request letter

Version 2

Dear [Manager's Name],

I am seeking approval to attend the Legal SYNERGY Conference in Las Vegas from November 16-19, 2026, hosted by Thomson Reuters. The total estimated investment includes early bird registration at $2,295 (regular pricing will be $2,695), plus hotel accommodation and travel expenses. I recommend securing registration at the early bird rate to maximize cost savings.

About the conference:

SYNERGY is designed for legal leaders looking to anticipate market shifts and drive innovation. The sessions, panels, and roundtables will condense months of learning into immersive days, providing insights into where legal services are headed, the impact of AI, and how client expectations are evolving.

Benefits of attending:

- Gaining market intelligence & shaping organization strategy: SYNERGY provides exclusive access to the Thomson Reuters Executive Roadmap, panels with leading legal professionals and general counsel, and an inspiring keynote presentation. This will give us a view into where the legal market is headed, including the impact of AI and shifting client expectations. These insights will inform our organization's strategic planning and help us maintain our competitive edge.
- Building high-value connections and industry partnerships: Networking events, social gatherings, and roundtables offer opportunities to engage with peers, corporate legal departments, and industry thought leaders. These connections are invaluable for knowledge-sharing, benchmarking, and exploring collaboration opportunities that can advance both our practice and our organization's reputation.
- Advancing AI proficiency and client-facing innovation: Hands-on workshops and peer-led success stories will provide fresh perspective on how other firms are employing AI for client-centered innovation. By learning from real-world applications and proven strategies, we can accelerate our own adoption and avoid common pitfalls.
- Professional development and certification: The conference will offer CLE sessions to support my continuing education requirements, and I'll have the opportunity to pursue CoCounsel Certification for litigators or transactional attorneys - a valuable credential that demonstrates our firm's commitment to cutting-edge legal technology.

Thank you for considering this request. Ultimately, participation will strengthen our client service, help us find ways to reduce billable hour leakage, and reinforce our commitment to innovation in the legal industry.

Best regards,

[Your Name]